

Drinkwell pet Drinking Fountain

This veterinarian-designed Drinkwell pet drinking fountain continuously circulates and filters your pet's water, making it more appealing than standing bowl water. The flowing action breaks the surface tension of the bowl water to draw in oxygen from the air and aerate the water, keeping it fresher-tasting. Fresher-tasting water encourages water intake and proper hydration, which helps maintain a pet's health. If you have a cat that likes to jump on counters in search of dripping faucets, this fountain can help stop counter-jumping by satisfying the cat's need for running water.

The fountain pumps the water through a charcoal filter, which absorbs tastes and odors. A pitcher-like spout stands 5" above the floor, creating a long waterfall. The flow control is adjustable, allowing for a gentle cascade, while a grate over the opening prevents kibble from blocking the water flow. The Drinkwell Pet Drinking Fountain is made of safe ABS plastic with convenient side carrying handles, and completely disassembles for regular cleaning.
